

Name _____

Intersecting & Perpendicular

When two lines cross each other at a point, we call them intersecting lines. Perpendicular lines are a special kind of intersecting lines. The two lines cross to form a right angle (90° angle). In the space provided below, draw a set of each. Try not to copy the example here.

PREVIEW

Please login or register to download the printable version of this worksheet.

www.allkidsnetwork.com